

"Leadership Challenges for the 21st Century" January 3-14, 2011

The Leadership conference will bring participants from all over the world to Washington, DC to investigate the dynamics of the leadership challenges in the 21st century.

We will visit business, political, media, religious, and other cultural leaders to see how they are preparing for the future. We will bring in leadership trainers to give you insights to your own skills and leadership habits, and we will engage in vigorous discussions about alternative policies to confront the nation's most intractable problems such as energy, health, Middle East Peace, the rise of China, social security, terrorism, and more.

Highlights

- Lectures and discussions at the Osgood Center
- Visits and presentations at principal U.S. Government agencies, Congress, foreign embassies and think tanks
- Training sessions on the nature of leadership, personal values, and community service

The program is designed to accommodate either the beginning or advanced student
